OSLO STREET FOOD
TORGGATA BAD

Oslo Street Food is a dynamic food hall located at the old Torggata bad, an old public bath, in the very city centre. They offer a variety of unique tasting experiences and a mix of cultures from all around the world. Bring your friends and family for a tasteful meal. Everyone is welcome - even your dog!

Thursdays as well as on weekends there are DJs playing all night long, turning the food hall into one of Oslo's most popular nightclubs. Every Thursday HYSJ, one of Oslo's most desirable club concepts, is ready to heat up the dance floor from 10 PM.

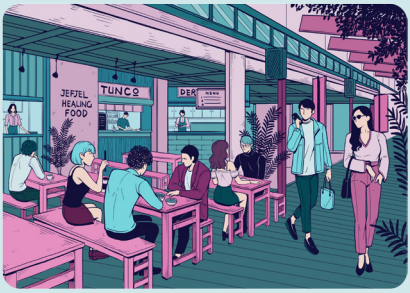
BARCODE
STREET FOOD



Barcode Street Food is a vibrant food hall and meeting point, located only a stone's throw away from Oslo Central Station. The place offers an international and tropical atmosphere and is a perfect place both for lunch, afterwork and family time.

On Tuesday evenings they offer quiz (held in Norwegian), activities for children every Sunday, and Thursday through Saturday there is a great variety of DJs that set the atmosphere at the venue. One can also sign up for wine- and beer tasting experiences, with a new theme every month. Read more on our website or contact us for more info.
