Hello Trondheim!

Contained within the pages you hold is a (partial) overview of the concerts, clubs and DJ events in this city over the coming months.

We want to hopefully make your life a little easier when it comes to discovering events in your home town and beyond.

Flick through these pages, download the app or visit our site at broadcast.events and find some new (or old!) music to check out.

See you in the mosh pit!

So whats this broadcast thing all about then?

This is our first printed edition in Trondheim, so let us tell you a little bit about ourselves.

The idea for broadcast came out of a frustration with how many great musical events we were missing out on in our hometown of Oslo and other cities.

In our free app and online you can search for events with your favourite genres, artists that you like, find events with free entry, student prices, and all the key information is in English so that the information is accessible to both residents and visitors.

Its about time event discovery was both easy and fun... don't you think?
