Festivals are go!

Finally its June and at last we have the chance to freely explore the streets of Oslo in search of the largest selection of musical genres you will find on any one single day!

This year we have again partnered up with the Musikkfest team to help you discover new local musical talent, and explore the city to your hearts content.

In our center pages you will find a pull out map of all the stages, and in our app a dedicated schedule for the entire days activities.

June also means that festival season is now well and truly underway. With the likes of PiPFest, Loaded, Tons of Rock and FOMA pulling together some quite stellar line ups, this month is packed full of musical treats.

Have fun out there!
